Only slightly scary

Warm and fuzzy "Uglies" from www.babesta.com make great Halloween gifts for young goblins and gremlins.

The soft plush toys have no hard pieces, so they're completely child safe in case the little devils — er, darlings — decide to chew.

All of the "Uglies," which range in price from $9.95 and $19.95, have unique personalities and backgrounds. IceBat, for instance, is a "freaky freezy mammal" that lives in an icebox in an ice cave.

In a news release, IceBat's press agent in New York claims: "Despite his icy exterior, his lovable-ness will warm your soul."
